

See Lewis Called for Coal Parley

Government Is Expected To Summon U.M.W. Chief and Operators Within Week

Fines to Be Paid
Labor Leader Must Pay $10,000 Fine Levied By Federal Judge

By HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, March 22 (AP)—Officials in touch with the soft coal dispute said today there may be a government call within the next week for John L. Lewis and the mine owners to start negotiating for a new contract.

Before it comes, they told a reporter, two legal moves remain: Lewis to "purge" himself and the United Mine Workers of contempt of the Federal District Court here by showing that he has called off his notice terminating their contract with the government as operator of the seized mines.

This will include paying his own fine of $10,000 and one of $700,000 against the union. The Supreme Court, in upholding District Judge T. Allan Goldsborough's contempt finding, lopped $2,500,000 off a $3,500,000 fine against the U.M.W. Coal board for both fines was posted with the district court in the form of government bonds.

The Justice Department to decide whether it wants a final judgment on the basic issue of the court fight, which was whether Lewis had the right to reopen his contract with the government on 30 days notice.

The government contends the contract holds good as long as the government holds the mines. But authority to continue the seizure expires June 30 under present law and officials say the Justice Department may not insist on a court ruling.

Timing of the government invitation to Lewis and the operators to start up contract negotiations thus depends largely on how soon the legal formalities on Lewis' fine can be disposed of. Government lawyers expect him to act quickly.

Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug, with whom Lewis made his present government contract, will return to Washington Monday after a southern trip. Associates said he will do nothing until all the legal steps had been cleared. They guessed this might be by midweek.

Both sides were waiting for the government to make the first move.

Lewis has said he will negotiate with any person authorized to make a contract, and last December all the operators except those from the south and far west expressed a willingness to talk terms with Lewis at any time.

Yesterday, J. D. Francis, president of the Island Creek Coal Co., of Huntington, W. Va., said the Southern Coal Producers Association is "ready and willing to negotiate with the United Mine Workers for a new contract."

He added, "they are not willing to sign someone else's contract."

Negotiations may go slowly while Congress still is considering legislation dealing with unionization of foremen, union health and welfare funds, the closed shop and industry-wide bargaining. All are involved in the coal controversy.

Telephone Workers Will Take Vote on Strike Tonight at 7

Local members of the Empire State Telephone Union employed at the New York Telephone Company here will vote at 7 p. m., today at Old Fellows Hall, Broadway and Brewster street, on whether to strike in support of a program for higher pay and improved working conditions.

W. E. McQuade, executive president of the union, said yesterday that 375 plant employees here will join 36,000 others in the up-state vote. The issues involved include a wage increase of $12 a week, union security, minimum pensions and vacations.

Stenographer Is Slain

New York, March 22 (AP)—Investigation of the strangulation slaying of Norma Kotler, 22-year-old red-haired stenographer—whose evidence of a struggle or robbery or criminal assault—has not turned up a suspect or a tangible clue, police said today. She was found dead in bed yesterday in an apartment she shared with her mother, Mrs. Gussie Kotler.

Roundup of Sex Offenders Ordered To Solve Slaying

District Attorney Directs Drive to Find Who Killed 12-Year-Old Edward Flynn

EDWARD FLYNN

Billerica, Mass., March 22 (AP)—District Attorney George A. Thompson today ordered a roundup of all known sex offenders in this area for questioning in the slaying of 12-year-old Edward J. Flynn, Jr., considered a juvenile expert on the clarinet.

Young Flynn's bruised and naked body was found yesterday by a hunter near a pine grove just off "Lover's Lane." His clothes—and a woman's silk stocking—were found hanging from tree branches as though they had been tossed haphazardly from an automobile.

Associate Medical Examiner Mason Bryant reported that death was caused by "suffocation" and that the boy was "a victim of a vicious sexual attack by a sexual pervert."

There was a superficial abrasion over one of the young musician's eyes and a lump on the back of the head.

Police Chief William O'Brien theorized that the boy had been attacked and slain elsewhere and his body then transported to the lonely spot where it was found. He attached little significance to the woman's stocking found with the parochial schoolboy's clothing—other than to bolster the medical report he was a victim of a sex fiend.

O'Brien said it was not unusual for sex perverts to carry pieces of women's apparel on their clothing. Young Flynn, the son of a tannery worker, disappeared Wednesday night on his way to a rehearsal of a church band in nearby Medford.

Russian Press Silent On New Marriage Bans

Moscow, March 22 (AP)—The Russian press made no mention today of yesterday's announcement in the official gazette of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) forbidding marriages between citizens of the U.S.S.R. and foreigners and no official explanation for the decree has been advanced.

There are a number of theories about it here, among which the most popular is that numerous marriages of this kind and subsequent requests for exit visas cause too much trouble. The Russians long have held the view that many Soviet girls who married foreigners did so only to escape the hardships of war sacrifices in Russia.

51 Republicans Will Hold Parley On Sugar, Rents

Senators Called to Meet on Control Issues; Party Has Various Views on Subject

By JACK BELL

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The 51 Republican Senators were called together today to see whether they can reach a united decision on the future of government controls over rents and sugar.

Several members told newsmen privately they were dubious about prospects for a general agreement in view of widely different views among party members.

Senator Taft (Ohio), chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, said the conference would be concerned primarily with sugar rationing.

The House voted 286 to 54 yesterday to extend sugar rationing and price controls until next October 31 and allocation powers until March 31, 1948. Price controls and rationing are scheduled to expire June 30 and the allocation powers at the end of this month.

Senator McCarthy (R-Ill.), who wants to abolish all sugar controls, told a reporter he is willing to bet that a majority of G.O.P. senators will support his view in the end.

McCarthy argued that the most recent estimates of the Cuban sugar crop is up 650,000 tons and said there ought to be enough to go around without government allocation.

Want Local Board's On the rent front, Taft and McCarthy have joined forces behind a bill to set up local boards with broad powers to remove ceilings or adjust present limits.

A banking subcommittee headed by Senator Buck (R-De.) took another slant yesterday on a bill proposing that governors be authorized to set up advisory committees which could make recommendations. The bill would otherwise extend controls until next February 29.

Senator Hawkes (R-N.H.), has been pushing for a 10 per cent increase if rent controls are continued, but most of his colleagues appeared to have backed away from any such blanket action.

Would Control Fats, Oils Taft asked the Republicans to decide also whether they want to retain controls over the importation of fats and oils. He said such controls in effect would be possible for some European countries to get quantities of these commodities which otherwise might be shipped into the United States.

The Ohio senator favors continuance of rubber controls, apparently with majority support of his colleagues. He said those appear necessary to keep the synthetic industry going.

But the Republicans have made it plain they will not support President Truman's request for re-enactment of provisions of the Second War Powers Act authorizing steel allocations and some other industrial priorities.

Of Marital Mixups

Princeton, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—A Presbyterian clergyman took the witness stand yesterday to deny he had offered Mrs. Gerda Lund Jones, his 26-year-old daughter-in-law, money if she would agree to an annulment of her marriage to his son.

The Rev. Joseph S. Jones of Brewster, N. Y., and his wife are defendants in the $25,000 annulment suit brought by the daughter-in-law, an ex-war bride married 23-year-old Edward Tate Jones in Rheims, France, in October 1945.

He had told his son he did not want the boy's wife in the family home at Brewster, but testified he had never threatened to break up their marriage.

Vetoes Liability Liberality; Signs Education Tax Measure

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey vetoed today without comment a bill which would have liberalized the liability insurance requirements for motorists who, as the result of serious accidents, must file proof of financial responsibility with the motor vehicles commissioner.

The measure would have enabled such motorists after three years, to carry standard liability insurance rather than the special policies they now are required to carry at premium rates.

Dewey disapproved three other bills and signed 17 measures, including legislation which he said was "designed to make clear that the levy of taxes within a village area for educational purposes shall be excluded from the tax limitations imposed by the state constitution."

He said the bill, authored by Republican Assemblyman Theodore Hill, Jr., of Worcester, was "clearly desirable and merely clarifies the practices throughout the state."

Yesterday he approved legislation enabling local housing authorities to continue temporary financing methods for another year and commented that "material shortages and other difficulties" still impede the housing program. The bill gives the authorities permission to postpone issuance of long-term bonds in favor of temporary anticipation notes.

The three other bills Dewey vetoed today would have permitted a salary increase for the police justice at Albion, made the state provide a traffic guard on the food-weakened Gibson Bridge across the Chemung river, and give the Board of Parole discretion to determine the portion of original sentences to be served by felons who commit another crime while on parole.

Other bills approved: Double maximum daily pay for town district commissioners. Authorize the Board of Land Office Commissioners to convey certain state lands in Dutchess county to the Wiggdale Civic Association for a war memorial building. Increase from $400,000 to $600,000 the amount that shall be in the fund arising from the sale of town lands in Nassau county before surplus shall be disbursed as the town board directs. Increase salaries of judge and surrogate in Nassau and Greene counties. Permit town board in Nassau county to establish or extend public parking district outside of village or city without petition but after notice and hearing.

Showdown on G. O. P. Tax Cut In House on Thursday; Moscow Wants Germany Decentralized

Molotov Asks Ministers Council to Restore Conditions Country Had Before Hitler Proposes Election

Political System Must Take on Democratic Character, He Says

London, March 22 (AP)—The Moscow radio said Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov asked the Council of Foreign Ministers today to establish a decentralized German government.

The broadcast, recorded by the Soviet monitor here, quoted Molotov as saying:

"The Hitlerite centralization of the state administration, which destroyed the landtags (provincial diets) and the autonomous administration of the laender (states) must be liquidated, so the decentralization of the administration will be restored which existed before the establishment of the Hitler regime, with the restoration of the landtags and two all-German chambers."

French officials previously had urged decentralization and the United States and Britain suggested federalization.

There had been widespread belief in the western capitals that Russia favored a strongly centralized German government and this was foreseen as a major issue of the Moscow conference.

Needs Democratic Touch Molotov was quoted as saying that "the political system of Germany must have a democratic character and the organs of power must be formed on the basis of a democratic election."

"Such a provisional German government must be set up as could, while ensuring the political and economic unity of Germany, simultaneously assume responsibility for the fulfillment of Germany's obligations to the allied states," the radio quoted him.

Molotov proposed that the German government include "central German administrative departments for finance, industry, transport, communications and foreign trade," the broadcast reported.

He suggested that the Allied Control Council in Berlin work out a provisional democratic constitution for Germany with the help of "democratic parties, the free trade unions and other anti-Nazi organizations."

His plan, as broadcast, proposed that elections be held "in accordance with the provisional German constitution, after which a provisional German government should be formed."

Would Erase Militarism

The prime task of the provisional government, he said, should be "the eradication of militarism and German militarism and Fascism" in accordance with the Potsdam agreement.

"A permanent constitution of Germany must be approved by the Allied people," he added.

Under his plan, a president of the German Republic would be elected by a parliament consisting of two chambers.

"On the whole territory of Germany, an all-German constitution established by parliament will operate and in the laender the constitutions of the laender established by parliaments."

Molotov was quoted as proposing that the parliament and the landtags be elected "on the basis of a universal, equal and direct electoral law, with secret voting and the proportional system."

Boost in Newspaper

Montreal, March 22 (AP)—Canadian paper quarters hinted and U. S. sources flatly predicted today that paper companies both here and in the United States soon would follow the lead of a big Canadian dealer who boosted the price of newspaper $6 a ton yesterday, to the highest level since 1920. Company officials said yesterday that Canadian International Paper Company, would put their newspaper price up April 1 to $86 a ton in Montreal and Toronto and, adding the customary $4 international differential, $90 a ton in New York.

Republicans Sure They Can Override Anti-Portal Veto

Agent Says No One Menaced Stanton L. M. Siller Corroborates Forman Testimony on $1,000 Deposit

New York, March 22 (AP)—John J. McIntyre, a Treasury Department operator, testified yesterday that no threats were made by him or any other government official at the time former O.P.A. Investigator Edward T. Stanton, while serving a two-year prison term for selling gasoline coupons illegally, made a statement concerning alleged bribery and conspiracy which the government prosecuted in a sugar ration violation trial in Federal Court has termed a "confession."

McIntyre formerly was assigned to the O.P.A. Stanton, testifying in his own defense, previously had repudiated the statement and had said it was obtained under duress and threats.

Stanton, Joseph Forman, former corporation counsel of Kingston, N. Y., and Harold Gottfried, former president of the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corporation, of Ellenville, N. Y., are on trial on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government of Stanton's impartial services as an investigator of the corporation's sugar consumption in 1941.

Louis M. Siller, a partner in the Siller Beef Company, Kingston, N. Y., testified yesterday that in March, 1943, he paid Forman a cash fee of $1,000 for services Forman rendered his company.

Siller corroborated Forman's testimony, made in connection with the deposit of various sums of money in the Siller Beef Company.

Smashing Victories Are Recorded in House, Senate on Moves to Outlaw Suits

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, March 22 (AP)—On the strength of decisive House and Senate victories for legislation killing portal pay suits, Republicans spoke confidently today of overriding a veto by President Truman if necessary.

The Senate vote for a measure to outlaw virtually all pending and future portal claims was 64 to 24.

It now goes to the House, which passed a similar bill three weeks ago, 435 to 56.

Next week a House-Senate conference committee will iron out the differences. Ratification is a foregone conclusion.

Then the bill will go to the White House.

With a two-thirds vote needed to override a veto, G.O.P. congressional leaders could point to the fact that they mustered the required strength—and more—in both the House and Senate.

Democrats joined with 46 Republicans in approving the portal bill, voiding pending claims for nearly $6,000,000. The Democrats lost, 53-35, an earlier attempt to substitute a milder bill for the G.O.P.-sponsored measure finally adopted. They proposed to exempt future back-wage claims from the general ban.

Say It Would Wreck Act

Democrats who opposed final passage contended the bill would wreck the wage-hour act, which fixes minimum wages and maximum hours.

This is what it does: 1. Outlaws all pending portal suits, except those covered by Continued on Page Four

Speaker Martin Predicts Passage of Measure to Lower Payments of 'Little' Men

No Amendments

Democrats Ride Along With Truman on His No Slash Policy

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Republican leaders will put their $3,840,000,000 tax-slashing bill before the House next Wednesday under a procedure requiring members to vote for this cut or none.

No amendments from the floor will be allowed and the showdown vote will come on Thursday. Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said the bill "definitely will pass."

Democratic leaders quickly took a "no cut at all" stand, backing up President Truman's contention that and treasury surplus this year should be used for payments on the national debt.

The legislation, approved 16 to 9 by the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday, would lower by 30 per cent the taxes of more than 20,000,000 "little men" and give a 20 per cent cut to most of the other 28,000,000 income taxpayers.

The cuts would be retroactive to January 1. Wage and salary withholding rates would drop June 1 and rebates would be given on over-payments since the first of the year.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, the G.O.P. floor leader, predicted that when the House vote comes "we will pick up more Democratic votes than we lose Republican votes. We will be so near unanimous on our side that it won't make any difference." The Republicans have a 245 to 168 majority in the House.

Speaker Martin issued a rallying call for Republicans in a formal statement last night, saying: "The Republicans have clearly recognized for a long time the dangers of excessive taxation and the absolute necessity for tax cuts. We promised the nation lower taxes—and we shall keep faith with the American people."

These tax cuts are entirely practicable while at the same time payments are made on the debt."

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) said the bill gives too large a cut for high incomes and not enough for the "little man." He told newsmen he will propose at a meeting of House Republicans on Monday that the measure be revised to shift more relief to the lower brackets and less to incomes above $50,000.

Occupation Forces Face Strict Liquor Control

Frankfurt, Germany, March 22 (AP)—U. S. Army Headquarters today announced the imposition of strict controls on liquor consumption by American occupation forces in Germany and Austria as part of "a general tightening of discipline to improve Americans' morale and conduct in occupied territory."

Beginning April 1, American and Allied troops and civilians will be authorized to purchase only three bottles of hard liquor monthly through army stores or clubs and the importation of liquor outside official army channels will be strictly prohibited.

Denial that the move was prompted by excessive drinking on the part of American troops, an army spokesman said it was designed not so much to reduce drinking as to provide a better control over it and curtail black marketing.

The restrictions will not apply to wines and beer.

Intoxication Leads February Arrests

Public intoxication led the list in causes for arrest in February with 17 reported, according to a report filed recently by Police Chief Ernest A. Boss with the Board of Police Commissioners.

Disorderly conduct was next with six arrests reported. Of the total of 40 arrests, three others were for violations of the city traffic code, four for third degree assault and two for violations of the Vehicle and Traffic law.

The report listed six persons injured in six traffic accidents.

Up to Board Chairman

New York, March 22 (AP)—Failure of a three-member arbitration board to reach a unanimous decision in a contract dispute between a utility concern and 11 A.F.L. locals representing thousands of workers in 43 upstate counties has sent the problem to the board's chairman, John Dwyer, of Washington, D. C., for final solution.

Greek Spring Drive Starts Against Guerrillas in North

Athens, March 22 (AP)—The Greek Army's promised spring offensive against anti-government guerrillas in the north was reported under way today on Mount Grammos near the Albanian frontier.

Larissa dispatches last night said the 15th Division, with artillery and air-group support, began a large-scale drive on the Grammos guerrillas early Thursday.

The dispatches said fliers from Larissa and Salonika bases inflicted severe losses among the anti-government forces with machine-gun fire.

Southwest of Mount Grammos, Eighth Division units were reported to have wiped out a band of over 100 guerrillas at Hosi on Mount Pzoumerka in Greek Epirus, not far from Albania.

Reports said today that in another Epirus action, Greek troops killed 20 guerrillas and wounded 15 in a three-hour battle near Konitsa.

Other dispatches reported that far to the east near the Bulgarian border, the Xanthi brigade virtually wiped out a Leftist band of about 200 in the vicinity of Therma. These dispatches said 50 guerrillas were killed, 70 wounded and seven captured and the remnants fled into Bulgaria, leaving many supplies behind.

In Greece's southern peninsula of the Peloponnese, inhabitants of nearby villages broke into a prison at Chylion and killed 22 Communist convicts to avenge the Leftist killing of P. Katsareus, Right-Wing band chieftain.

The ministry of public order, which announced the lynching, said it was carried off by some 200 armed villagers who overcame 25 prison guards.

A United Nations Commission has been in Greece almost two months inquiring into a Greek charge that the northern guerrillas had been supplied and encouraged from across the Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgarian borders.

Alexis Kyriak, Greek liaison officer, notified the commission Wednesday night of plans for the current Mount Grammos offensive. Greek military officials earlier had complained that the army was being delayed because Russian delegates to the commission were then still in the mountain area.

Drive to Show Aid for Greece Conforms to U.N.

Bipartisan Move Is Intended to Meet the Head-on Charges in Congress

Washington, March 21 (AP)—A bipartisan congressional drive got underway today to notify the world that the plan to shore up Greece and Turkey against Communism conforms with United Nations "principles and purposes."

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.), of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Senator Connally (D-Tex.), offered that declaration as a formal preamble to a measure authorizing President Truman to send the two southern European countries $400,000,000 in aid.

The plan, obviously intended to meet head-on charges in Congress and foreign capitals that this country is snubbing the international organization, was advanced even as the administration was reported weighing a plan for reaffirming its support in U.N.

Vandenberg and Connally, both closely associated with development of American diplomatic policy, cited in their proposed preamble evidence that the U.N. "is not 'request such assistance' from the U.N. and from this country and Britain."

Stressing anew what President Truman and Under Secretary of State Acheson already have emphasized, the proposed preamble points out that the U.N. "is not now in a position to furnish Greece and Turkey the financial and economic assistance which is immediately required."

"The furnishing of such assistance to Greece and Turkey by the United States," it adds, "will continue."

Showdown on G. O. P. Tax Cut In House on Thursday; Moscow Wants Germany Decentralized

Molotov Asks Ministers Council to Restore Conditions Country Had Before Hitler Proposes Election

Political System Must Take on Democratic Character, He Says

London, March 22 (AP)—The Moscow radio said Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov asked the Council of Foreign Ministers today to establish a decentralized German government.

The broadcast, recorded by the Soviet monitor here, quoted Molotov as saying:

"The Hitlerite centralization of the state administration, which destroyed the landtags (provincial diets) and the autonomous administration of the laender (states) must be liquidated, so the decentralization of the administration will be restored which existed before the establishment of the Hitler regime, with the restoration of a federal system and two all-German chambers."

French officials previously had urged decentralization and the United States and Britain suggested federalization.

There had been widespread belief in the western capitals that Russia favored a strongly centralized German government and this was foreseen as a major issue of the Moscow conference.

Needs Democratic Touch
Molotov was quoted as saying that "the political system of Germany must have a democratic character and the organs of power must be formed on the basis of a democratic election."

"Such a provisional German government must be set up as could, while ensuring the political and economic unity of Germany, simultaneously assume responsibility for the fulfillment of Germany's obligations to the allied states," the radio quoted him.

Molotov proposed that the German government include "central German administrative departments on finance, industry, transport, communications and foreign trade," the broadcast reported.

He suggested that the Allied Control Council in Berlin work out a provisional German constitution for Germany with the help of "the democratic parties, the free trade unions and other anti-Nazi organizations."

His plan, as broadcast, proposed that elections be held "in accordance with the provision of the German constitution after which a provisional German government should be formed."

Would Erase Militarism
The prime task of the provisional government, he said, should be eradication of "the remnants of German militarism and Fascism" in accordance with the Potsdam agreement.

"A permanent constitution of Germany must be approved by the Allied Control Council," he said. Under his plan, a president of the German Republic would be elected by a parliament consisting of two chambers.

"On the whole territory of Germany, an all-German constitution established by parliament will operate and in the laender the constitutions of the laender established by landtags."

Molotov was quoted as proposing that the parliament and the landtags be elected "on the basis of a universal, equal and direct electoral law, with secret voting and the proportional system."

Agent Says No One Menaced Stanton

L. M. Siller Corroborates Forman Testimony on $1,000 Deposit

New York, March 22 (AP)—John J. McIntyre, a Treasury Department operator, testified yesterday that no threats were made by him or any other government official at the time former O.P.A. Investigator Edward T. Stanton, while serving a two-year prison term for selling gasoline coupons illegally, made a statement concerning alleged bribery and conspiracy which the government prosecution in the sugar ration violation trial in Federal Court has termed a "confession."

McIntyre formerly was assigned to the O.P.A.

Stanton, testifying in his own defense, previously had repudiated the statement and had said it was obtained under duress and threats.

Stanton, Joseph Forman, former corporation counsel of Kingston, N. Y., and Harold Gottfried, former president of the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corporation, of Ellenville, N. Y., are on trial on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government of Stanton's partial services as an investigator of the corporation's sugar consumption in 1941.

Louis M. Siller, a partner in the Siller Beef Company, Kingston, N. Y., testified yesterday that in March, 1943, he paid Forman a cash fee of $1,000 for services. Forman rendered his company.

This corroborated Forman's testimony, made in connection with the deposit of various sums of money in the Siller Beef Company.

Greek Spring Drive Starts Against Guerrillas in North

Athens, March 22 (AP)—The Greek Army's promised spring offensive against anti-government guerrillas in the north was reported today by Mount Grammos near the Albanian frontier.

Larisa dispatches last night said the 15th Division, with artillery and air-group support, began a large-scale drive on the Grammos guerrillas early Thursday.

The dispatches said fliers from Larisa and Salonika bases inflicted severe losses among the anti-government forces with machinegun fire.

Speaker Martin Predicts Passage of Measure to Lower Payments of 'Little' Men

No Amendments

Democrats Ride Along With Truman on His No Slash Policy

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY
Washington, March 22 (AP)—Republican leaders will put their $3,840,000,000 tax-slashing bill before the House next Wednesday under a procedure requiring members to vote for this cut or none.

No amendments from the floor will be allowed and the showdown vote will come on Thursday. Speaker Martin (R-Mass.), said the bill "definitely will pass."

Democratic leaders quickly took a "no cut at all" stand, backing up President Truman's contention that and treasury surplus this year should be used for payments on the national debt.

The legislation, approved 16 to 9 by the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday, would lower by 30 per cent the taxes of more than 20,000,000 "little men" and give a 20 per cent cut to most of the other 26,000,000 income taxpayers.

The cuts would be retroactive to January 1. Wage and salary withholding rates would drop June 1 and rebates would be given on over-payments since the first of the year.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, the G.O.P. floor leader, predicted that when the House vote comes "we will pick up more Democratic votes than we lose Republican votes. We will be so near unanimous on our side that it won't make any difference."

The Republicans have a 245 to 188 majority in the House.

Speaker Martin issued a rallying call for Republicans in a formal statement last night, saying: "The Republicans have clearly recognized for a long time the dangers of excessive taxation and the absolute necessity for tax cuts. We promised the nation lower taxes—and we shall keep faith with the American people."

"These tax cuts are entirely practicable while at the same time payments are made on the debt," Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) said. The bill gives too large a cut for high incomes—and we shall keep faith with the American people."

He told newsmen he will propose at a meeting of House Republicans on Monday that the measure be revised to shift more relief to the lower brackets and less to incomes above $50,000.

Occupation Forces Face Strict Liquor Control

Frankfurt, Germany, March 22 (AP)—U. S. Army Headquarters today announced the imposition of strict controls on liquor consumption by American occupation forces in Germany and Austria as part of "a general tightening of discipline to improve Americans' morale and conduct in occupied territory."

Beginning April 1, American and Allied troops and civilians will be authorized to purchase only three bottles of hard liquor monthly through army stores or clubs and the importation of liquor outside official army channels will be strictly prohibited.

Denying that the move was prompted by excessive drinking on the part of American troops, an army spokesman said it was designed not so much to reduce drinking as to provide a better control over it and curtail black marketing.

The restrictions will not apply to wines and beer.

In The Pocket
with CHARLIE TIANO

PERRY'S FOUNDER'S RUNNING WILD: In the comparative obscurity of the Booster League, Pete Perry's keepers—Perry's Restaurant—are keeping alive one of the most remarkable winning streaks in local bowling history. As of this week, the skein had extended through 36 straight games and there is nothing on the horizon to endanger the snowballing process except graduation exercises.

The commencement activities in the Booster League are staged annually and consist of kicking upstairs, all keepers who shoot an average of 150 or better. Once an aspiring trundler achieves these dizzy heights in the Booster, he is graduated magna cum laude and told to please stay away for the remainder of his life.

Mr. Perry's galaxy of pocket-busters includes Bill Atkins, a hard-hitting baseball catcher of another era, Bill Douglas, Johnny Glowinski, Joe Enright, Don Peterson and Tom Benson. In some manner or other, these trundlers contrived to lose seven games and their seasonal record is a mere 62 games won, 7 lost. They have high totals of 905 and 2571 net pinnage, rather excellent accomplishments for 150 keepers.

A streak is a streak regardless of the direction it takes, according to the Company B players, who of the other corner. The B trundlers set out to achieve a national record for consecutive losses. They reached a staggering total of 47 straight when they learned that a Brooklyn squad had dropped 63 in a row, and they promptly amazed the Booster loop with a pair of victories.

Pete Perry is proud of his championship squad. It's an understandable pride when you stop to consider that his squad leads Co. B by only 87 games.

On Newburgh Card

Boxing fans of the Hudson valley are promised a treat at the Aval Recreation Center in Newburgh Monday when Cliff Velez, the ever popular Valley Stream lightweight, climbs through the ropes to meet Cesarino Roman, latest Cuban import.

Velez, a brother of the sensational professional, Joe Velez, is under the mentorship of Al Lang who recently presented Sonny Horne in Newburgh. Lang says that Velez is one of the most likeable prospects he has ever seen in the lightweight division.

Cager Norris, the clasp who only last week kayaked his foe, will return to further action by squaring off with Rafael Martinez of Puerto Rico. Martinez is recognized as a slugger of red ability and should test the Cager.

Another feature will bring together Ben Haley, the New York Irish Kid, and Rafael Beza, the smiling Puerto Rican who dropped a close decision here last week. Beza and Haley have split in their previous ring engagements.

Four other bouts will round out the card to be presented by the Franklin Athletic Association. The first bout is scheduled for 9 o'clock.

Why not employ a Veteran!

THE MAGICIAN SPEAKS: "Boxing, that bizarre profession which induces atavistic tendencies, will shortly be dealt a novel twist, when Jimmy Grippo appears before the New York Boxing Commission on behalf of his back-buster, Melio Bettina, of Beacon, the former light-heavyweight champion."

These terrifying forebodings were concocted by the unblinking Grippo, the "Mad Magician of Jacobs Beach." It seems that Mr. Grippo is greatly disturbed because Bettina, the destructive Young Melio of the amateur boxing era of Brown's Servicer in Kingston, is getting the old runaround in his quest for a shot at Joe Louis.

"Grippo will toss the gauntlet at the Commission in the mold of a formal challenge to Joe Louis to engage the Beacon southpaw in a championship tussle for the heavyweight crown."

(That's Grippo's take on the matter.) Grippo stated with another burst of rhetoric that both the Veterans Administration Office and the American Legion stand squarely behind Bettina in his demand for titular consideration. Grippo will base his argument on the G.I. Bill of Rights, "the law of the land since its creator, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt launched it early in 1944."

At the sports pages of 1942 reveals that after Joe Louis flattened Buddy Baer and Alvin Simon for the Army and Navy Relief, he was matched with Melio Bettina, says Grippo. "The former light heavy champion was in the throes of a remarkable winning streak, having whipped Jimmy Blivins, Curtis Sheppard, Booker Beckwith, Buddy Walker, Red Burman and many others."

The Mad Magician then makes the blunt assertion that the Brown Bomber took a rumrun powder in the Army. "Mike Jacobs had the griped and he's talking about ambers aboard the boat."

With the press weighing Joe's chances against a southpaw, the champion never having encountered one, when Joe suddenly blew the top off with the announcement that he was joining the Army immediately," recalls Grippo as he wiped away a flood of crocodile tears. He relates that Bettina followed suit, donning khaki along with his five brothers—one of whom was killed in action. Mustard Melio climbed aboard the boat, a handworn without delay and to date has liquidated six consecutive opponents without working up a good sweat. They were Bill Weinberg, Joe Muscato, Eddie Blunt, Eldridge Eastman and Larry Bouchard.

Bettina may or may not get a shot at Joe Louis. We think he deserves a chance. We thought Louis could have done much better when he was trouncing through the Euro of the Month campaign. If a Bettina-Louis battle is circumvented by the boys who pull the strings in the pro boxing racket, Melio can always settle for Jimmy Rouse, the Albany Negro heavyweight, who has won 17 straight fights as a pro.

Mr. Grippo has been informed of Rouse's talents. He has had just enough information to be convinced that Mr. Rouse might play too rough for Melio. Then again why worry about Jimmy Rouse, who has the press in time sending out press blurbs, with alarming words like "atavistic."

Maddens-Gulnickers Are Local
Openers in 'Y' Cage Tourney

Competition in the annual Ulster-Greene County Gold Medal Basketball Tournament opens on the Y.M.C.A. court tonight at 7:30, with Maddens Aces of Kingston going against Amrod's Aces of Saugerties.

The feature contest in the opening bracket of the 20-team tournament pairs the Kingston Gulnickers with the Coeymans American Legion.

Lou Schafer, the Y.M.C.A. basketball maestro and his assistant, Burt Streeter, anticipate one of the finest tournaments in the history of the competition.

The Ulster County American Legion League is responsible for producing several topnotch contenders. Maddens will floor a lineup showing Bill Dougherty and Clayton Stalter at forwards; W. Egan, center; and "Beaver" McCordie and Lou Sapp, guards, for the opener. The Saugerties lineup shows Joe Doyle and Sam Christiana, forwards; Luchmann, center; Lorzel and Cox, guards.

Coeymans is rated a definite threat against the Gulnickers. The Greene county quintet is reputed to have three topnotch scorers in Winnie, Mudge and Schermerhorn.

Brandon, Davis Lose in Albany, Flagg and Barone Win Titles

Dave Brandon and Tom "Tiger" Davis, two of Kingston's leading amateur boxers, were defeated in the semi-finals and finals of the annual Adirondack A. A. U. Golden Gloves tournament last night at Vincennes Institute gym in Albany.

Davis' setback snapped a nine fight winning streak. The popular curtain raiser lost to Bernie Connors, of Albany, in the semi-finals. He then whipped Brandon in the 160 Open bracket by very unpopular decision.

A third member of Monk Armstrong's B'nai B'rith stable, Al Jones, of Catskill, captured the 126-pound novice title by scoring a technical knockout over Tom Hunter, of Albany, in 1:32 of the second round.

Roosevelt Flagg, of Albany, who appears on the local card next Thursday, March 27, won the 126-pound Open title by shading Jack Joyce, also of Albany.

Barone Wins Title
Johnny Rowland, Albany, popular in local circles, defeated Al Parry, of Utica, in the 135-pound Open final.

Tony Barone, Schenectady, a topdrawer B'nai B'rith gate attraction, trounced Eddie Morton of Albany, to win the 147-pound Open crown.

Flagg, the newly-crowned featherweight champion of the Adirondack A.A.U., faces a rugged opponent in Frankie Bifilco, Buffalo southpaw, on the next local card. Bifilco will be remembered for his sensational battle with Carmin Virgilio that resulted in an unpopular decision. Fans are still talking about that one.

The feature pairs Al Hurlbut, hard hitting Rome light-heavy, against Johnny Marchese, Niagara district 175-pound kingpin.

DISAGREEING BROTHERS

The Senate committee fight over David E. Lilienthal was enlivened by the split between the Bridges brothers. Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was against Lilienthal. His brother Roland, president of the Pacific School of Religion and moderator of the Congressional Churches, is reported to have sent, during the height of the conflict, a telegram to Washington, urging Lilienthal's confirmation and wishing that his brother had better sense.

As Ronald is separated from Styles by the width of the continent, there is no chance of their repeating Tennessee's historic battle of the Taylor brothers. In 1886 Robert L., the Democratic candidate for governor, encountered his brother Alfred on the Republican ticket. They toured the state together, telling stories, playing the fiddle and drawing huge crowds. While Robert won this time, a generation later the Republican landslide of 1920 carried Alfred into the governorship. No particular issues divided the Taylors. But the cleavage between Styles and Ronald Bridges has to do with one of the most important questions of the generation.

ALL KINDS OF SHOWS

Turnstiles are whirling. People are turning out by the tens of thousands for all kinds of shows. Convention halls and civic auditoriums, empty throughout the war years, have found the public flocking through their doors. Sports shows in various parts of the country have had crowds of would-be vacationists looking over guns, fishing tackle, boats, hammocks, tents, outdoor cooking and camping equipment. Flower shows, home building and equipment shows, all have been so well attended that there was difficulty in seeing the exhibits. Dog shows have had maximum entries and throngs of animal lovers as spectators. Attending such affairs is hard work. People must walk from exhibit to exhibit, battle crowds. Moreover, gate charges are not low—a dog show ticket may cost more than a dollar, flower shows a little less.

The American people, like Romans of old, like these exhibitions, all of which stem from the old time Roman circus. They are willing to work hard to get a look-in, and pay good money for the privilege.

Now some genius announces that country life is bad for the mind, so probably everybody will be moving into town, and then finding sooner or later that it ain't so. Even the Blandings got to the country in the end.

HOME ACCIDENTS

Over 34,000 persons were killed in their homes last year and the toll is still rising. More persons are accidentally killed in the home than any other place.

Little can be done about cutting down the death and accident rates in homes except to constantly remind persons of the dangers that confront them in their own homes. Accident prevention in the home is a matter of self-discipline and alertness. Accidents cannot be curbed by safety rules and regulations such as are practiced in industry or on the highways. It is up to the individual to watch out for himself.

Nearly every accident in the home is due to two causes—a dangerous thing and a careless person.

The National Conservation Bureau reports that types of accidents in the home can be classed in six main classes. They are falls, burns, scalds, asphyxiation and suffocation, poisoning, gunshot wounds and fire.

HOME REPAIR PLANS

Ulster county's 22,600 single-family homes will spend an estimated $3,707,000 on repair and modernization work during 1947. Painting is the most often wanted improvement with about a third of all owners planning to redecorate home and exteriors or some room of the interior. Many dwellings plan new roofs or roof repairs and large numbers will

BEWARE OF LOOSE TALK!

I awoke one morning this week in a hotel room in Pittsburgh, turned on the radio to hear the news and there it was: the same voice, the same staccato, the same hurry and rush and headline spilling, reciting the evils of Russia as not so long ago it recited the evils of Germany, speaking the same sentences but using different names. I rubbed my eyes to drive away the dream but it came louder and louder. The old propaganda brigade was at work, thoughtlessly driving a country into a war attitude.

I who have spent exactly 30 years of my young life opposing Russian territorial and ideological expansion in many fields, frankly fear that the exaggerated anti-Russianism, the bandwagon hopping of only three weeks ago fellow-travellers, will bring all the issues and eventually produce a dangerous revulsion of feeling in favor of Russian and American communism.

No advantage can be gained by such a correspondence as that initiated by Gail Sullivan of the Democratic National Committee who apparently is the possessor of a cheer-leading mentality. This country has expended blood and wealth in a war that has brought as much suffering to the victor as to the defeated, largely because the politicians bogged all the issues, substituted slogans for knowledge and facts, slapped out publicity mince-meat by the million but kept the truth hidden—and all with the object not of strengthening the life of the American people, but to win elections, to remain in office and to achieve power.

That glorified nonsense has cost the United States $341,000,000,000 and the lives of many of its boys and the costs are still mounting. Our losses are about 35 cents off every earned dollar. Prices are high today because the government of the United States, as purchasing agent for the hungry and starving and fearful peoples of all countries, competes with the American consumer in the commodity markets of this country. Commodity prices have risen in a year from an index of 271.3 to 421.7, because large scale government buying for export has driven up domestic food prices. I could, and anyone can, paint a lurid picture of the consequences of a war fought over no principles by allies who were bound together by no agreements stipulating the terms of alliance and the objectives to be achieved. Secret arrangements and public pronouncements, designed to cover up the truth, glittering nonsense spinning out of Quebec, Tehran, Yalta, Cairo and Potsdam, aimed to fan the flames of war, to mask the shameful display of deception and hunger and war-fear which mark the world of today.

The point is that the Truman Doctrine, calling to an end to Russian expansion and for a crusade against ideological penetration, was a noble statement of a cause and may save the next generation from war if courageously and honestly implemented. George Marshall is doing that at Moscow assisted by an able American team. But here at home, the little party wheel-horses, the former Fellow-Travelers of the Communists, the New Dealers who fear exposure as colleagues and supporters of the Communist cause, the hirelings of government, are seeking to hold on to their petty jobs, realizing that they can only fail in a competitive world, are grabbing a vexed and almost impossible delicate problem that has to be handled as one would a fierce time-bomb to avoid explosion, with the object of playing internal American politics aimed at winning an election in 1948. They make anti-Communism an issue but continue to give Communists employment in all the agencies they control.

They shout and shriek, but it is only to create a synthetic public opinion. If we are to save our sons and grandsons from another interruption in their already abused lives, these politicians and publicity men and hunters for personal advantage must be excluded. Senator Vandenberg is worthy of every applause for slapping down Gail Sullivan's state proposal that the Republican and Democratic National Committees infect themselves in this debate. Vandenberg showed the party hireling precisely where he belongs. That is the proper attitude toward all little men who befuddle great issues. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THAT BODY OF YOURS

TEACHING EFFECTS OF EMOTIONS

It is interesting to physicians to read of the studies of the medical students of today. In their years at school the first year was spent on anatomy, physiology, chemistry and materia medica; the second year was spent on advanced anatomy, chemistry, pathology and various types of laboratory work; the third year on medicine and surgery, the fourth and fifth years on more medicine and surgery with some lectures on nervous diseases, legal medicine, practical bedside experience in hospital. All nervous diseases, including odd behavior of all kinds and even insanity itself were believed due to change in structure of the brain substance.

First year students at the School of Medicine, Northwestern University, Chicago, will immediately be introduced to the emotional and mental problems of patients. They will learn the difference between behavior of normal persons afflicted with injury or illness and that of patients who are emotionally or mentally abnormal.

This will come with surprise to some physicians to whom psychiatry—behavior symptoms—were considered a petriology or nervous diseases due to change in the structure of the brain substance, but it will not come as a surprise to the active physician of today who knows that many of the symptoms of his patients are caused not by any real or organic disease, but by the effect of the emotions upon the various organs and processes of the body.

It is likely that other medical schools will adopt the method of teaching in first year students that in the treatment of symptoms the personality of the patient is as important as the disease.

Dr. Douglas D. Bond, professor of psychiatry at Northwestern, will see that during the entire four years of study psychiatry will be taught by lectures and clinics.

"Emphasis upon emotional and mental disturbances is in line with the growing tendency among schools of medicine to teach their students to treat the patient as well as the disease with which he may be afflicted."

Home repair expenditures in the county are part of a $554,922,000 modernization program being undertaken in New York this year, according to a recent study.

With increased supplies of building materials, there undoubtedly would be a record volume of home modernization.

The evening was draped in memory of Mrs. Mary Schreiber, former lady assistant steward. Lucy Gardner gathered all available talent to stage a "March of Time" depicting the organizing of Huguenot Grange in 1905 up to the present (by presenting various customs) and lecture programs during the years.

He was taken to the Dale Sanitarium and treated by Dr. Lester Sinking of Saugerties. No arrest was made but the matter is still being investigated.

Government Plan For Germany by French Minister

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Moscow, March 22 (AP)—Authoritative sources said French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault would present to the Council of Foreign Ministers today a governmental plan for Germany envisioning a loose federation of states with a single House of Parliament.

These informants said members of the Unimbral Parliament would be named by state legislatures for terms of four years, under the French plan, which is at wide variance with the proposals put forward for Germany's future by Secretary of State George C. Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin yesterday.

It was understood that Bidault was maintaining his position on extreme decentralization for Germany despite Prime Minister Stalin's reported opposition, which is believed to have been communicated to the French Foreign Minister in an interview last Monday night.

Bidault is scheduled to present this French view as the first speaker at this afternoon's council session.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov also was slated to present Russia's views—for a strong central German government—at today's session.

In the French plan, qualified informants said, the states would hold virtually all the powers, even to the extent of conducting foreign relations on matters affecting themselves if they desired to do so outside of federal channels.

Acheson Is Misquoted On Communist Dangers

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Undersecretary of State Acheson was quoted erroneously yesterday as saying that a Communist-dominated government anywhere would endanger the security of the United States.

The misunderstanding arose during his questioning by Rep. Judd (R-Minn.) at the House Foreign Affairs committee hearing. The questioning went thus:

Judd: "I understand our major reason for proposing and adopting this legislation (aid to Greece and Turkey), is our belief that it would be dangerous to the security of the United States to have Communist-dominated governments developing in Greece and Turkey, is that correct?"

Acheson: "That is correct."

Judd: "Well, would it or would it not be dangerous to the security of the United States to have a Communist-dominated government on the Pacific in China?"

Acheson: "I think we should not look with favor upon that."

It was at that point that some reporters understood Acheson to refer to Communist-dominated governments anywhere, but examination of the transcript established otherwise.

The State Department, too, later issued a denial.

DISAGREEING BROTHERS

The Senate committee fight over David E. Lilienthal was enlivened by the split between the Bridges brothers. Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was against Lilienthal. His brother Roland, president of the Pacific School of Religion and moderator of the Congregational Churches, is reported to have sent, during the height of the conflict, a telegram to Washington, urging Lilienthal's confirmation and wishing that his brother had better sense.

As Ronald is separated from Styles by the width of the continent, there is no chance of their repeating Tennessee's historic battle of the Taylor brothers. In 1886 Robert L., the Democratic candidate for governor, encountered his brother Alfred on the Republican ticket. They toured the state together, telling stories, playing the fiddle and drawing huge crowds. While Robert won this time, a generation later the Republican landslide of 1920 carried Alfred into the governorship. No particular issues divided the Taylors. But the cleavage between Styles and Ronald Bridges has to do with one of the most important questions of the generation.

ALL KINDS OF SHOWS

Turnstiles are whirling. People are turning out by the tens of thousands for all kinds of shows. Convention halls and civic auditoriums, empty throughout the war years, have found the public flocking through their doors. Sports shows in various parts of the country have had crowds of would-be vacationists looking over guns, fishing tackle, boats, hammocks, tents, outdoor cooking and camping equipment. Flower shows, home building and equipment shows, all have been so well attended that there was difficulty in seeing the exhibits. Dog shows have had maximum entries and throngs of animal lovers as spectators. Attending such affairs is hard work. People must walk from exhibit to exhibit, battle crowds. Moreover, gate charges are not low—a dog show ticket may cost more than a dollar, flower shows a little less.

The American people, like Romans of old, like these exhibitions, all of which stem from the old time Roman circus. They are willing to work hard to get a look-in, and pay good money for the privilege.

Now some genius announces that country life is bad for the mind, so probably everybody will be moving into town, and then finding sooner or later that it ain't so. Even the Blandings got to the country in the end.

HOME ACCIDENTS

Over 34,000 persons were killed in their homes last year and the toll is still rising. More persons are accidentally killed in the home than any other place.

Little can be done about cutting down the death and accident rates in homes except to constantly remind persons of the dangers that confront them in their own homes. Accident prevention in the home is a matter of self-discipline and alertness. Accidents cannot be curbed by safety rules and regulations such as are practiced in industry or on the highways. It is up to the individual to watch out for himself.

Nearly every accident in the home is due to two causes—a dangerous thing and a careless person.

The National Conservation Bureau reports that types of accidents in the home can be classed in six main classes. They are falls, burns, scalds, asphyxiation and suffocation, poisoning, gunshot wounds and fire.

HOME REPAIR PLANS

Ulster county's 22,600 single-family homes will spend an estimated $3,707,000 on repair and modernization work during 1947. Painting is the most often wanted improvement with about a third of all owners planning to redecorate home and exteriors or some room of the interior. Many dwellings plan new roofs or roof repairs and large numbers will

Beware of Loose Talk!

I awoke one morning this week in a hotel room in Pittsburgh, turned on the radio to hear the news and there it was: the same voice, the same staccato, the same hurry and rush and headline spilling, reciting the evils of Germany, speaking the same sentences but using different names. I rubbed my eyes to drive away the dream but it came louder and louder. The old propaganda brigade was at work, thoughtlessly driving a country into a war attitude.

I, who have spent exactly 30 years of my young life opposing Russian territorial and ideological expansion in many fields, frankly feel that the exaggerated anti-Russianism, the bandwagon hopping of only three weeks ago fellow-travelers, will befall all the issues and eventually produce a dangerous revulsion of feeling in favor of Russian and American communism.

No advantage can be gained by such a correspondence as that initiated by the Sullivan of the Democratic National Committee who apparently is the possessor of a cheer-leading mentality. This country has expended blood and wealth in a war that has brought as much suffering to the victor as to the defeated, largely because the politicians befooled all the issues, substituted slogans for knowledge and facts, slapped out publicity mimeographs by the million but kept the truth hidden, and with the object not of strengthening the life of the American people, but to win elections, to remain in office and to achieve power.

That glorified nonsense has cost the United States $341,000,000,000 and the lives of many of its boys and the costs are still mounting. Our taxes are about 35 cents of every earned dollar. Prices are high today because the government, as the United States, as putting its agent for the hungry and starving and fearful peoples of all countries, competes with the American consumer in the commodity markets of this country. Commodity prices have risen in a year from an index of 271.3 to 421.7, because large scale government buying for export raises domestic food prices.

I could, and anyone can, paint a lurid picture of the consequences of a war fought over no principles by allies who were bound together by no agreements stipulating the terms of alliance and the objectives to be achieved. Secret arrangements and public pronouncements, designed to cover up the truth, glittering nonsense sparkling out of Quebec, Tehran, Yalta, Cairo and Potsdam, aimed to fan hate and to masquerade vile secret deals, could only have produced the shameful display of deception and hunger and war-fear which mark the world of today.

The point that the Truman Doctrine, calling to an end to Russian expansion and for a crusade against ideological penetration, was a noble statement of a cause and may save the next generation from a war if courageously and honestly implemented. George Marshall is doing that at Moscow assisted by an able American team. But here at home, the little party wheel-horses, the former Fellow Travelers of the Communists, the New Dealers who fear exposure as colleagues and supporters of American Communists, the hirelings of government who seek to hold on to their petty job, realizing that they can only fail in a competitive world, are grabbing a vexed and almost impossible delicate problem that has to be handled as one would a bomb, and are trying to avoid explosion, the object of playing internal American politics aimed at winning an election in 1948. They make anti-Communism an issue but continue to give Communists employment in all the agencies they control.

They shout and shriek, but it is only to create a synthetic public opinion. If we are to save our souls and grandsons from another interruption in their already abused lives, these politicians and publicity men and hunters for personal advantage must be excluded. Senator Vandenberg is worthy of every applause for slapping down Gael Sullivan's stupid proposal that the Republican and Democratic National Committees inject themselves in this debate. Vandenberg showed the party hiring precisely where he belongs. That is the proper attitude toward all little men who baffle great issues. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THAT BODY OF YOURS

TEACHING EFFECTS OF EMOTIONS

It is interesting to physicians to read of the studies of the medical students of today. In their years at school the first year was spent on anatomy, physiology, chemistry and materia medica; the second year was spent on advanced anatomy, chemistry, pathology, and various types of laboratory work, the third year on medicine and surgery, the fourth and fifth years on more medicine and surgery with some lectures on nervous diseases, legal medicine, practical bedside experience in hospital. All nervous diseases, including odd behavior of all kinds and even insanity itself were believed due to change in structure of the brain substance.

First year students at the School of Medicine, Northwestern University, Chicago, will immediately be introduced to the emotional and mental problems of patients. They will learn the difference between behavior of normal persons afflicted with injury or illness and that of patients who are emotionally or mentally abnormal.

This will come with surprise to some physicians to whom psychiatry—behavior symptoms—were considered a part of neurology or nervous diseases due to change in the structure of the brain substance, but it will not come as a surprise to the average physician of today who knows that many of the symptoms of his patients are caused not by any real or organic disease, but by the effect of the emotions upon the various organs and processes of the body.

It is likely that other medical schools will adopt the method of teaching even first year students that in the treatment of symptoms the personality of the patient is as important as the disease.

Dr. Douglas H. Bond, professor of psychiatry at Northwestern, will see that during the entire four years of study psychiatry will be taught by lectures and clinics.

"Emphasis upon emotional and mental disturbances is in line with the growing tendency among schools of medicine to teach their students to treat the patient as well as the disease with which he may be afflicted."

Government Plan For Germany by French Minister

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Moscow, March 22 (AP)—Authoritative sources said French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault would present to the Council of Foreign Ministers today a governmental plan for Germany envisioning a loose federation of states with a single House of Parliament.

These informants said members of the Unicameral Parliament would be named by state legislatures for terms of four years, under the French plan, which is at wide variance with the proposals put forward for Germany's future by Secretary of State George C. Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin yesterday.

It was understood that Bidault was maintaining his position on extreme decentralization for Germany despite Prime Minister Stalin's reported opposition, which is believed to have been communicated to the French Foreign Minister in an interview last Monday night.

Bidault is scheduled to present this French view as the first speaker at this afternoon's council session.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov also was slated to present Russia's views—for a strong central German government—at today's session.

"In the French plan, qualified informants said, the states would hold virtually all the powers, even to the extent of conducting foreign relations on matters affecting themselves if they desired to do so outside of federal channels."

Acheson Is Misquoted On Communist Dangers

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Undersecretary of State Acheson was quoted erroneously yesterday as saying that a Communist-dominated government anywhere would endanger the security of the United States.

The misunderstanding arose during his questioning by Rep. Judd (R-Minn.), at the House Foreign Affairs committee hearing. The questioning went thus:

Judd: "I understand our major reason for proposing and adopting this legislation (aid to Greece and Turkey) is our belief that it would be dangerous to the security of the United States to have Communist-dominated governments developing in Greece and Turkey. Is that correct?"

Acheson: "That is correct."

Judd: "Well, would it not be dangerous to the security of the United States to have a Communist-dominated government on the Pacific in China?"

Acheson: "I think we should not look with favor upon that."

It was at that point that some reporters understood Acheson to refer to Communist-dominated governments anywhere, but examination of the transcript established otherwise.

The State Department, too, later issued a denial.

Color Doesn't Matter
Pasadena, Calif., March 22 (AP)—The Pasadena Humane Society concluded today that hardly anybody, except breeders of blue-blood dogs, cares whether puppies were born white instead of tan. An avalanche of about 300 telephone calls and telegrams has been received from as far away as St. Paul, Minn., and Syracuse, N. Y., from persons wanting the puppies.

Lice Remedy Out
Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The State Health Department warns against treatment of head lice with a carbon tetrachloride compound which it says has been sold for use among school children. The preparation, which also contains D.D.T., is for use on animals, not humans, the department said yesterday. District health officers were instructed to discourage use of the product because of its carbon tetrachloride content.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Involved Social Security
Portland, Ore., March 22 (AP)—George A. Johnson, 45, pleaded guilty to collecting unemployment benefits last year while working part time. He owes the Unemployment Commission $125.

The court suspended sentence after Johnson, now really jobless, promised to repay the $125—out of this year's unemployment benefits.

Policemen's Holiday
Stockton, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Up to a downtown cocktail lounge roared two patrol wagons loaded with police. A large crowd gathered expectantly as the officers pushed their way inside.

"No raid" was the word sent out—just peace officers from northern California counties relaxing between sessions of their annual regional meeting.

The paddy wagons were the only convenient transportation.

Army Style
LaSalle, Ill., March 22 (AP)—The method in which police shifts are relieved has been changed by the city council at the suggestion of Alderman John Hrovat.

Hrovat said that under the arrangement whereby one shift was relieved by another at the city hall, someone could come in and walk away with the whole town.

The council agreed to his plan of having policemen relieve other officers "on post."

Scribe-Sleuths
Chicago, March 22 (AP)—The guests at a private showing of a yet unreleased mystery film included about 30 police officials, police reporters and judges.

Half way through the movie the projectionist stopped the film and the guests were asked to name the murderer, the methods he used and his motives.

There were $25 government bond prizes for the three who had perfect scores. The three winners were police reporters.

A new troop, with Mrs. Edward Schmidt, as leader, is being organized, consisting of 14 fly-ups from Brownie Troop 55. The new troop committee together with Mrs. J. Haviland Barile, district committee member on organization, visited Troop 53 Tuesday afternoon in order to find out how the troop worked.

Troop 53 is making plans for the annual troop birthday party to be given April 11, 7:30 p. m. at Ramsey Hall. The troop will have a special ceremony for the new troop being organized. The stagecraft group, coached by Mrs. Oscar Newkirk, assistant leader, will present a play, "A Little Excitement," three acts for parents and friends and the new fly-ups. Girls working on the hostess badge will serve refreshments.

Scouts' Holy Hour
Approximately 150 Boy and Girl Scouts of the Kingston District with their leaders and troop committee members, took part in a Scouts' Holy Hour at St. Joseph's Church Sunday. The Rev. John M. Brown, Ouster count, C.Y.O. moderator, gave a talk based on the little virtues of obedience, courtesy and kindness as exemplified in the Scout laws. The service closed with benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Open to Smugglers

New York, March 22 (AP)—A federal economy order to dismiss 700 waterfront patrol officers will leave the Port of New York "wide open to smugglers," says Collector of the Port Harry M. Durning. "I have no idea how we are going to do the job," Durning told a gathering of customs port patrol officers yesterday. The congressional cut in appropriations will leave him only 100 men for waterfront patrol, he said, adding that "the order comes as a startling shock to me."

Juniors Will Take Exams
Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—High school students will take their comprehensive English examination at the end of the junior year, so that senior year instruction can be more flexible. The Board of Regents approved the change yesterday, on recommendation of a curriculum committee, and also decided that required health subjects would be divided between the ninth and final years.

Color Doesn't Matter
Pasadena, Calif., March 22 (AP)—The Pasadena Humane Society concluded today that hardly anybody, except breeders of blue-blood dogs, cares that four boxer puppies were born white instead of tan. An avalanche of about 500 telephone calls and telegrams has been received from as far away as St. Paul, Minn., and Syracuse, N. Y., from persons wanting the puppies.

Lice Remedy Out
Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The State Health Department warns against treatment of head lice with a carbon tetrachloride compound which it says has been sold for use among school children. The preparation, which also contains D.D.T., is for use on animals, not humans, the department said yesterday. District health officers were instructed to discourage use of the product because of its carbon tetrachloride content.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Involved Social Security
Portland, Ore., March 22 (AP)—George A. Johnson, 45, pleaded guilty to collecting unemployment benefits last year while working part time. He owes the Unemployment Commission $125.

The court suspended sentence after Johnson, now really jobless, promised to repay the $125—out of this year's unemployment benefits.

Policemen's Holiday
Stockton, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Up to a downtown cocktail lounge roared two patrol wagons loaded with police. A large crowd gathered expectantly as the officers pushed their way inside. "No raid" was the word sent out—"just peace officers from northern California counties relaxing between sessions of their annual regional meeting."

The paddy wagons were the only convenient transportation. Army Style
LaSalle, Ill., March 22 (AP)—The method in which police shifts are relieved has been changed by the city council at the suggestion of Alderman John Hrovat.

Hrovat said that under the arrangement whereby one shift was relieved by another at the city hall "someone could come in and walk away with the whole town." The council agreed to his plan of having policemen relieve other officers "on post."

Scribe-Sleuths
Chicago, March 22 (AP)—The guests at a private showing of a yet unreleased mystery film included about 30 police officials, police reporters and judges. Half way through the movie the projectionist stopped the film and the guests were asked to name the murderer, the methods he used and his motives.

There were $25 government bond prizes for the three who had perfect scores. The three winners were police reporters.

Girl Scouts of County Prepare for Camping Season at Camp Wendy; Mrs. Tinnie, Chairman

"We are interested in making Camp Wendy a thoroughly Ulster county project," stated Mrs. Donald Tinnie, camp promotion chairman of the Ulster County Girl Scout Council, Inc., today. She stated that opportunity would be presented during the summer for 420 girls to participate in this camping experience and expressed a desire that Ulster county girls who will be given the first opportunity to register, get their application in soon after April 28, when registrations are open.

There will be both one and two week encampments, she made clear, and hoped that the parents would feel this opportunity group living and fun in the out of doors under trained leadership a sufficient inducement to make, if necessary, a personal sacrifice that their Brownie or Girl Scout might have the opportunity to be at Camp Wendy for some period of time.

Camp Leaders Needed

In making clear the benefits to the girls of the county, she stressed the fact there are many who would enjoy camping in various capacities of leadership. "We are especially interested," she said, "in finding young women who know the Girl Scout program or other youth program, and enjoy working with girls who would like to plan and conduct the program for a group of girls from 12 to 20 in number." The camp must have specialists in its various fields of waterfront activities, arts and crafts, dramatics, games, and songs as well as a dietitian.
